LEATHER CLOTH

Have the trimmings in your suit been all in rags before your suit was half worn? Have you been obliged to have your suit relined before it was half worn? Would you prevent this annoyance in the future? Then buy one of our semi-custom made suits lined with leather cloth. We are chronic cranks on the use of such linings as will stay with you until the garment is worn out. Ask to see our semi-custom made suits. Your tailor will charge you from $10 to $20 more for no better.

PRICES

$16 to $28.

Miss Mildred Pollard of Orange, after a two weeks' visit with her friend, Mrs. Millie B. Hammond, left town Tuesday to visit her uncle in Oakland, Me.

Invitations are out announcing the marriage of Miss Mabel J. Pearson and George R. Miller in the Congregational church next Wednesday evening, Oct. 15.

The Misses Etta Neal, Elizabeth Main and Angie Dodge, of Waltham, were the guests, Saturday, of their friends, Miss Stella Herick and Miss Carrie Colbath.

S. Edward Mudge of Lynn, and Miss Alma Goodale of West Peabody, were united in marriage at the Congregational parsonage, Thursday evening at 6.30 o'clock, by the Rev. Edwin Smith.

BASEBALL.

Ballardvale 5; South Border A. C. 4.

Ballardvale won the series by defeating the strong South Border A. C. of Woburn on the Plains last Saturday afternoon in a close and exciting ten inning contest by a score of 5 to 4.

For Ballardvale the features were the first class play of the battery, Drisko striking out 11 men and holding his opponents down to 5 singles. He was very ably supported by Bonner who made 3 foul fly catches and batted very heavily, making three two base hits and a sacrifice. The batting of Platt and O'Donnell was also strong and timely.

The visiting team played an excellent fielding game. Their play while men were on bases was very sharp and effective, but they could not bat Drisko safely. J. Higgins and McCarthy played their positions exceptionally well. It was the seventh consecutive victory for the home team.

Wedding.

SISCO—LARREBEE.

The marriage of Miss Maud Larabee of Quebec, Vt., and John E. Sisco of Ballardvale, took place in the Congregational church, at Quebec last Wednesday evening. Rev. W. A. Monsey performing the ceremony. A large number of the friends and relatives were present.

The bride was most becomingly gowned in a dress of white mull and carried a bouquet of carnations.

Miss Mary L. Church was bridesmaid. She was very beautifully attired in a pale blue silk and also carried a bouquet of carnations.

Gardner H. Shattuck acted as best man. The ushers were Cecil Farrington of White River Junction, Vt. Charles H. Shattuck, Melvin Cowan and Clarence Washburn. Miss Ethel Churchill presided at the organ.

After the ceremony a short reception was held, when the happy couple received the congratulations and best wishes of their many friends.

They were the recipients of many costly presents.

After a short wedding trip to Montreal and Quebec, Mr. and Mrs. Sisco will reside at 54 Pleasant street, Northampton.

Obituary.

MRS. HANNAH MORSE (CLARK) MOODY.

Mrs. Hannah Morse (Clark) Moody, wife of Almon S. Moody, died at her home last Sunday evening at 9.15 o'clock after a prolonged illness of about a year, aged 70 years, 11 months, 14 days.

The deceased was born in Methuen in 1831. She married Almon S. Moody in 1851, came to Andover to live in 1881 and moved to Ballardvale in 1882, where she has since resided. Mrs. Moody joined the Methodist church in Methuen in 1853 and has since been a faithful member of it. She was a direct descendant of Ephraim Clark who came to this country on the Mayflower.

Deceased was always an active worker in the Woman's Relief Corps. Besides possessing many fine traits of character, she had a very bright and sunny disposition and was sure to make friends wherever she went.

Besides a husband she leaves three daughters and four sons.

The funeral was held from her late home Wednesday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock and was conducted by Rev. Mr. Boltonhouse of Methuen, assisted by Rev. B. A. Cronton. The floral offerings were very fine, including a beautiful one from the Woman's Relief Corps of Andover. Interment was in Spring Grove cemetery.

A DRAWN GAME AT LOWELL.

The exhibition game between the Mohairs, champions of the Merrimack Valley league, and a team picked from the league, was played at Lowell Saturday.

The Mohairs scored 119, Hird 32, Southern 19, and Striks 29.

The league team could make no stand against the bowling of Mosely and Greenwood until Bruce of Andover and Wainwright of Lawrence got together, the former scoring 30 not out, and the latter 23 not out.

The game ended in a draw, for Mohair 119; League team 66 for six wickets.

After the game, a pennant, the gift of the Hon. Guy W. Currier, was presented to the champion club, also prizes for the best bowling and batting averages.

LOCAL CRICKETERS AND THEIR WORK.

Commenting on the work of the Lawrence and suburban cricketers this season the Lowell Citizen says:

"The meetings during the season between the Mohairs and the Buntings led to great excitement. In the first game the Mohairs gained the laurels, but nothing daunted the Buntings continued and the tide of victory was with them in their matches with other competitors in the league. The champions also continued to win their games until there came a time when they were unexpectedly defeated by Lawrence. This created more interest and when the Buntings met them for the second time excitement was at concert pitch. The result again was in favor of the Mohairs, and after their defeat by Lawrence the star of the Buntings lost its brightness and their chances of winning the pennant faded away. The weakness of the Buntings undoubtedly lies in their batting department. It is pleasant to know that in spite of the keen partisan feeling which exists on the field the Buntings have been only too ready to give the Mohairs unstinted credit for their success in retaining the championship."

"The Lawrence men have done well during the season and at one time they had strong hopes of winning the championship but by losing their match with Methuen their hopes in this respect were dashed to the ground. They possess a tower of strength in Taylor and Pearson, the former's bowling being at the time being in a large measure responsible for their position in the league. They have the proud distinction of being the only team in the league the Mohairs could not win from. They were the only club to beat the champions while in the recent game they drew on account of darkness. They were also the only team outside the Mohairs to defeat the Buntings. They show good promise next season to make the leaders hustle if they are to retain their positions."

"The Methuen men have played some good games and are considered by some to be the strongest club in Lawrence, although the Lawrence and Merrimacks dispute this title. Included in their ranks are some keen cricketers who in their play are worth and show exemplary conduct on and off the cricket field."

"The Merrimacks have this season seen many ups and downs. They have in some games been a little erratic but no matter how strong a team may be it does not do to underestimate the strength of the Merrimacks who are doughty opponents. Unfortunately for them this season they have failed to bat well at opportune times and thus win games."

"The Andover men have played the best they possibly could under somewhat adverse circumstances. Saunders their last batter and bowler left them to go to Nova Scotia and this weakened them. They have several prominent players who may be heard of doing good work next year as Bruce the veteran cricketer takes great interest in teaching the young players to improve."

COUNTY COMMITTEE CHOSEN.

At the county convention yesterday the following county committee was elected: Amesbury, John M. Garland; Andover, John C. Cole; Beverly, E. C. Sawyer; Boxford, Isaac C. Day; Danvers, Charles H. Prescott; Essex, William A. Burnham; Georgetown, Sherman Nelson; Gloucester, Wilton B. Hamilton; Groveland, Albert L. Wales; Hamilton, A. W. Chandler; Haverhill, Frank E. Watson; Ipswich, James H. Poor; Wenham, Simeon Dodge; West Newbury, Gliman W. Brown.

BRIBERY AND CORRUPTION.

HAVERHILL, Oct. 7.—Attempts at bribery, acceptance of bribes, corruption and degradation of citizenship, are some of the accusations that are flying through the air in this city between the members of three unions here as a result of the recent congressional contest between Gardner and Shaw.

The organizations involved are the Roof and Shoe Workers' Union, the Shoe Workers' Protective Union and the Lesters' union. The last body, however, is now practically out of the trouble.

The charge that has wrought up the unions is that certain members during the Shaw-Gardner campaign accepted money as bribes, supposedly for the support of their unions, when they had no right to do so.

THE WALKING SKIRT.

The comfortable walking costumes
are the first to appear in quantities, and they are being bought rapidly, for with the advent of September these coat and skirt suits became a more important wardrobe item than they were during the summer, when the beloved shirtwaist suit has taken their place.

The plaited skirt with side plaits or shallow box plaits, is evidently first favorite, and all indications point to it as the popular autumn and winter model. It clears the ground without showing the feet, and is fitted so closely and stitched so firmly over the hips that it adds nothing to the bulk of the figure.

LAWRENCE

A GAIN IN BUSINESS.

At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the Boston & Maine railroad,
held in city hall, Wednesday directors were elected and it was voted to increase the capital stock of the company and to issue bonds to an amount not exceeding $2,000,000.

The meeting was called to order by President Tuttle at 10.30 o'clock. Clerk William B. Lawrence read the call for the meeting and then read the records of the last meeting which were approved.

Melvin O. Adams moved that the annual report of the directors be accepted and it was so voted.

Henry M. Batchelder of Salem moved that the number of directors for the ensuing year be 13 and it was so voted.

On motion of Mr. Batchelder it was voted to ballot for directors and upon the matter of increasing the capital stock and the issuing of bonds at the same time.

Mr. Adams moved that the stockholders proceed to ballot and that a committee of six be appointed as tellers. The chair appointed Henry M.
Batchelder of Salem, T. A. MacKinnon of Boston, M. O. Adams of Boston, John R. Poor of Lawrence, A. R.
Tisdale of Boston and E. C. Benton of Belmont.

John W. Sanborn of Sanbornville, N. H.
moved that the polls be closed at 11.15 p. m., and it was so voted. The balloting then proceeded.

The following directors were elected,
each receiving all the votes cast, 154,797: Lucius Tuttle, Boston; Samuel C. Lawrence, Medford; Richard Ol-ney, Boston; A. W. Sulloway, Franklin, N. H.; Joseph H. White, Brookline; Walter Hunnewell, Wellesley;
Henry R. Reed, Boston; Lewis Cass
Ledyard, New York, N. Y.; Henry W.
Whitney, Brookline; Henry F. Dimock,
New York, N. Y.; William Whiting,
Holyoke; Charles M. Pratt, New York,
N. Y.; Alexander Cochrane, Boston.

It was voted to issue 10,000 new shares of common stock for the purpose of increasing the capital of the company, and for the payment of money borrowed for any lawful purpose, and for abolishing grade crossings, and for making additions to the equipment of the company, and for making permanent improvements to the road, and for other necessary and lawful purposes.
There were 156,754 votes in favor and none against.

It was also voted to issue bonds to an amount not exceeding two millions of dollars for the purpose of funding indebtedness of the company, and for the payment of money borrowed for any lawful purpose, and for abolishing grade crossings, and for making additions to the equipment of the company, and for making permanent improvements to the road, and for other necessary and lawful purposes. There were 156,813 votes in favor and none against.

On motion of Mr. Adams, William J.
Hobbs was appointed to approve the bonds to be issued.

According to the annual report submitted by President Tuttle the financial condition of the company at the close of the fiscal year, June 30, 1902,
was as follows:

The Gross Earnings from Operation
for the year ended June 30, 1902, were $1,840,684.00; operating expenses, ($8, 688 per cent) $21,889,912.36; net earnings from operation, $9,407,542.81;
income from other sources, $589,901.15;
net income, $9,997,443.96; taxes, $1,585, 355.43; operating expenses, $49,328.53;
total $1,629,513.96; interest on debt,
$1,366,996.69; rent of leased lines, $5,062, 921.98; total $8,059,422.63; surplus of net income over fixed charges $1,938,011.33, sinking fund payments $151,286.00, balance available for dividends, $1,786,726.
33.

The total passenger earnings in 1902 were $13,400,502.34 against $12,526,159.94 in 1901; the total freight earnings in 1902
were $18,732,088.58, and in 1901, $18,210, 588.81; the gross earnings in 1902 were $22,430,596.15, and in 1901, $21,737,620.40.

The total operating expenses in 1902
were $22,433,151.19 and in 1901, $21,518, 755.18.

Of passenger and freight traffic and the cost of operation President Tuttle
says:

"Of the $1,033,856.39 increase in gross earnings from operation, $409,825.97 was derived from the transportation of passengers. The total number carried was 666,767 less than the previous year, but the average distance they traveled increased from 13.3 miles to 17.32 miles, or 38-100 of a mile.

"Although the road's freight traffic
has been, under the circumstances, quite satisfactory, the increased income therefrom—$521,489.77—is much less than it would have been except for the very great falling off in the quantity of grain exported to Europe
during the latter half of the fiscal year in the carriage and elevation of which this company, under normal conditions, extensively and profitably employed the temporary current cesspa-tes, and the temporary current cesspa-tes, which usually forms a large and valuable portion of the road's traffic.

"The cost of labor, and also of nearly every kind of material and supplies necessary to railroad operation, increased, and the temporary current cesspates and the otherwise generally satisfactory enlargement in the year's gross income has been thereby largely offset by an almost equal growth—$914,336.01—in the year's operating expenses. The greater portion of this increased operating expense was due to necessary advances in wages paid employees. The prevalent and constantly increasing requests for additional wages can only be granted when it is possible to relatively increase the rates charged for transportation, thereby following methods that have already been found necessary in nearly every other kind of business."

Regarding new equipment he says:
"During the fiscal year 14 locomotives, 475 freight, 10 baggage, 10 passenger cars, and 2 milk cars, and 1 snow plow have been purchased, or built at the company's shops, and their cost (less proceeds of old equipment sold)—$563, 238.83—is included in the year's operating expenses. The equipment on June 30 consisted of 10 locomotives, 1,544 passenger cars, 1,629 freight cars, 354 caboose cars, 342 tool and road cars, 93 snow plows, 13 steam shovels, 22 electric railway passenger cars, 1 electric railway snow plow, 1 electric railway service car."

In conclusion President Tuttle says:
"While the amounts annually charged to operating expense for repairs and replacements and for the addition of new equipment, have been much more than sufficient to keep whole the ledger value of that owned by this company, and the inventory value of that belonging to its leased roads, and have averaged for several years from 20 to 23 per cent.

of the totals thereof; and while the carrying capacity has been thereby financially augmented, the road's freight tonnage and the yearly balances paid to other roads in the exchange of freight car service have at the same time so greatly increased,
that there can be no reasonable doubt
of the wisdom of increasing the road's freight equipment in the manner recommended."

A SPLENDID CELEBRATION.

The Italians of this city like those of nearly every city in the country Saturday and Sunday celebrated the occasion of the annual grand feast in honor of the Blessed Virgin of the Rosary of Pompeii. The event has been observed in this city by the Italian residents for several years and each year the celebration has been more elaborate.

Early Saturday afternoon the celebration opened and ended early Sunday evening. All the Italian residents took part. Italians from Providence, R. I., Boston, and other places were hospita-
bly received and feasted.

The opening of the event was the arrival of the Roma band from Boston at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Professor E. P. Cericola conducted the band. The committee in charge of the celebration met the band at the station. The band paraded down Essex street from Broadway to Jackson and Common streets. A reception was then tendered the band members.

On a bandstand erected on Common street, an orchestra rendered selections
from 4.30 to 6 o'clock.

At 5.30 o'clock Common street, from Jackson to Union streets, were brilliantly illuminated. A myriad of lights suspended across the streets at frequent intervals, gave the celebration a gala appearance. The illumination
continued until morning.

The illumination was in charge of Giovanni Riccolino of Providence, R. I.

At 7.30 o'clock a fine display of fireworks was set off on the playstead.
G. Paris and A. Pietrasale, conversant with pyrotechnics, who recently arrived in this city from their native land, had charge of the display.

At 7 o'clock the Roma band, accompanied by the committee of arrangements marched to the playstead where a concert was given.

Yesterday morning a concert was given on Common street between 3 and 5 o'clock. The band proceeded to music hall, where many of the Italian residents were assembled preparatory to attending divine service. At 10 o'clock the procession formed and proceeded along Common street from Essex to Lawrence, Essex, Jackson, Common and Union streets, to St.
Laurence's church.

In St. Laurence's church at 11 o'clock solemn high mass was celebrated. An Italian priest being celebrant. The full choir was assisted by the Columbian
Capella rendered "Salve Maria" by S.
Mercadante.

After the services the paraders returned by way of Common street to Music hall, where Mayor Leonard and Vincenzo Capazza made addresses. The Mayor Leonard congratulated the Italians on the success of the observance and expressed well wishes for their future welfare. Dr. McGowan also spoke to the assemblage in Italian and his remarks were well received by them.

The concert planned for the afternoon was not given on account of the rain.

The following committee was in charge of the celebration: Chairman, Gerardo Campopiano; secretary, Salva-tore Pucco; treasurers, Domenico Borelli, Fu Mich, Rocco Miele, Francesco Doleasere, Michele Stela, Domenico
Campopiano, Angelo Liquori, Angelo
Fiacobe, Battista Paglusca and Gerardo DeBruscio.

BUSWELL DEFEATED.

SALEM, Oct. 7.—The Republican county convention was held in the cadet armory here today and was one of the liveliest on record, a remarkable fight being made by Joseph E. Buswell of Methuen to secure the nomination for county commissioner against the opposition of the county ring which supported the candidacy of Commissioner Sawyer of Beverly.

Up to 2 o'clock no choice had been made, although three ballots had been taken, the fight being a remarkably close one.

The convention was called to order by Isaac C. Day, chairman of the theory committee. John M. Garland of Amesbury was chosen chairman and Charles B. Preston of Danvers secretary.

Speeches advocating the candidacy of Mr. Sawyer for county commissioner were made by Judge John W. Berry of Lynn, Ex-Mayor Merchant of Gloucester and E. O. Frost of Beverly.

Mr. Buswell's name was presented by Senator Archie N. Frost of Lawrence, and seconded by Senator H. P. Atwell of Lynn and Representative George H.
Carleton of Haverhill.

C. H. Goulding nominated N. M.
Quint of Peabody.

The first ballot for county commissioner resulted as follows, there being no choice:

Sawyer	97
Buswell	103
Quint	7

The second ballot was also without result, being as follows:

Sawyer	101
Buswell	100
Quint	6

The third ballot resulted:

Sawyer	100
Buswell	97
Quint	4

The validity of the fourth ballot was questioned and was declared void.

Another ballot was then taken. It resulted as follows:

Sawyer	100
Buswell	101
Quint	6

The fifth ballot proved to be the decisive one and resulted in a victory for Mr. Sawyer. The ballot was as follows:

Sawyer	108
Buswell	99

TRIBUTES OF LOVE AND RESPECT

The last sad rites over the remains of "Ned" A. Tripp, one of the most popular mortuary value of the Boston and Northern street railway, were held at 9.30 o'clock Tuesday morning and were attended by a large number of his fellow workers and friends.

Shortly before the hour set for the funeral the body was removed from Undertaker Colby's parlors to the Free Baptist church on Common street, accompanied by a marching host of his associates, to the solemn taps of a muffled drum.

The Rev. Frederick Marian Page,
pastor of the Trinity Congregational church officiated at the ceremonies. The edifice was well filled hardly a seat being unoccupied. The remains which were enclosed in a steel gray broadcloth covered casket were placed in full view in the front of the lower auditorium, and about the casket were the beautiful floral offerings of the many sorrowing ones. Two massive pieces, the final tributes of the association of which he was an esteemed member, had prominent positions on each side of the display. The Lowell division of the Street Railway Relief association and the Lawrence division were each represented by every man who could be spared. About 100 from each division of the association were present.

Miss Katherine Bulkley feelingly rendered two selections during the services. The first was entitled, "One Sweet Solemn Thought," and the second at the close was "He Giveth His Beloved Sleep." The Rev. Mr. Page
read the scriptures and gave a brief eulogy of the deceased.

At the conclusion of the services the assemblage filed past the casket to look for the last time upon the beloved features of the dead.

At 1.30 in the afternoon the remains were placed on the train for Wells, Me., where interment will take place.

The following are among the grand donors of the floral offerings: Archibald "Motorman" 118, L. & H. Div., surmounted by dove, Lawrence division
of the Railway Relief association; cross, surmounted by dove, inscribed, "Motorman 1186, Lowell Div., Lowell Railway Relief association; crescent, inscribed "Ned," a friend; spray of roses, C. H. Lovejoy;
cross, Mrs. Dearborn and Mrs. Mc-Gaughey; spray of violets, Mrs. Thornber; spray of asters, Dr. and Mrs. Geo.
Frost; spray of pink, Misses Nellie and Viola McCarthy; spray of roses, William A. Fisher; spray of pinks, Mr.
and Mrs. H. S. Nowell; and others.

BYRON TRUETT CO.

The old firm of Byron Truett & Co.
changed hands Saturday.

The public will be glad to know that Mr. Truett is to retain an interest in the store, and the concern has been incorporated as the Byron Truett
Co. The firm of Andrew & Co. of Haverhill, probably the largest dry goods dealers in that city, have purchased a large interest in the business and combined with the Haverhill store
it will be one of the largest dry goods stores in the state.

Alexander Blue, who has become well known to the Lawrence public, through two years connection with Robertson, Sutherland & Co., as superintendent and buyer, is a member of the new concern and will be the local manager. Mr. Blue has been associated with the dry goods business for many years and is thoroughly acquainted with every detail. It is expected that all of the help of Byron Truett & Co. will remain with the new concern for the present at least.

For 40 years the firm of Byron Truett & Co. has set a high standard for the quality of its merchandise and the strict integrity of its business dealings.
This high standard will be maintained
by the new firm.

SENTENCE AGAIN DEFERRED.

The matter of sentencing John Cronin
of North Andover, who was convicted,
at the session of the superior criminal court just ended, of assault with attempt to murder, Miss Mary Gillespie of North Andover, has again been postponed.

Sentence was to be pronounced at a special session of the court in Salem
today but Congressman Knox, who defended Cronin, is still confined to his bed and at his request it was decided to defer passing sentence until the next term of court in December.

Cronin is living in Andover now and working in the Marland mill. The bail which is $1500 was furnished by Timothy Sullivan of Andover and a brother of Mr. Cronin, residing in Georgetown.

sons; Lowell, Joseph Fox; Lawrence, Messrs. Flanagan and Lattons; Worcester, M. J. Kittredge.

A. G. Doe to whom the franchise of Manchester had been awarded condi-tionally, was present and stated that he would be unable to accept the franchise for that city.

The application of Portland was then taken from the table and that club was elected to membership. The owners of the franchise, Messrs. Leehan and Johnson were communicated with by telephone and they signified their acceptance of the franchise.

The roster of the players of the Lewiston club were transferred to Messrs.
Leehan and Johnson.

The Season of Politics.

The nominations are all made and the lines drawn for another battle of the ballots on November 4.

The local interest in the coming election is less marked than two years ago because of the retirement of Congressman Knox, who has been for two years an Andover citizen. But there is none the less need for very active and earnest effort to roll up a large vote on election day. The informal reception at the representative convention, on Monday evening, gave an opportunity to many prominent republicans to meet Col. Ames, who is the candidate for congress, and Senator Frost, who is but little known in Andover. Both of these gentlemen made friends in their brief stay in Andover, and both will be cordially welcomed when they come again, as they are expected to do later in the month.

Col. Ames cannot come before the voters of the 5th district with the reputation as a speaker, or the claim to such eminent ability, as that possessed by his predecessor, but from his past public service, and by the testimony of a large circle of warm personal friends, the voters of the district may be assured that in Col. Ames they have a candidate of high character, and one who is worthy of their loyal support. His declaration of principles was honest, and frank, and progressive, and showed that his moorings are solidly fastened to progressive republicanism.

Senator Frost comes before the voters for a second term as one who has earned a place once denied to him by a strong minority. The break last year in the republican party over the senatorial candidate made Mr. Frost's election very uncertain. That he won was due largely to his personal worth and marked ability. Today he has a flattering and unanimous nomination, and promises to receive a large vote.

It has been many years since the President needed the strengthening support of his people more than he does now. The great issue of the coal strike is the battle that is before him, and his stand is squarely and firmly for the great people he serves. Andover's share in the holding up of his hands in the present crisis is a rousing republican vote on November 4.

The Electric Lighting Troubles.

The Electric Light company has been having its share of the troubles of life during the past few weeks. And consequently so have its many patrons. To learn the real reason for all the trouble seems to be very difficult. By some it is claimed that the new current is too strong for the local wiring system; by others it is believed that the causes for the serious disturbance are wholly natural, due entirely to the wet weather, falling leaves, etc. From the officials of the company, assurances are given that the trouble is but temporary. They claim that some particular machinery is needed to control the Lowell current, and that such machinery is expected every day. Meanwhile Supt. Coleman is making every effort to adjust the difficulty.

If the trouble is but temporary there is no need for some of the very bitter comments regarding it. Electric lighting is one of the twentieth century blessings, and is in Andover as a great convenience to many people. The Andover company have made many changes during the past year, in the belief that they were to better the service. If such a result is secured, the public will appreciate it, if it fails to come, but instead a poorer service is offered, the support of the town as a body and as individuals can neither be expected by the company, nor extended by the people. No one realizes this better than the men who are directing the affairs of the Andover Electric Company, and we opine that they may be relied upon to meet the emergency.

Editorial Cinders.

Down south, there is a universal impression that it does not do to make too free with the hind end of a mule. From the appearance of our news columns this same impression should very promptly get control of everybody who may be inclined to take hold of "lives wires"; they are even worse kickers than a Southern mule.

That is a splendid lift which the Home for Aged has received in Mrs. Coburn's gift of $1000. At the rate of $2000 or over a year, the long cherished hopes of those who are working for this very worthy object will not be very long in reaching fruition.

This is the season for bonfires, with leaves as the material to be burned. We cannot commend too highly the energy and industry displayed by the different small boys all over town who are clearing up the leaves, and helping to keep Andover streets clean, but we must urge with equal earnestness that the various bonfires be very carefully watched.

CONVENTION HELD

Republicans Nominate John N. Cole as Representative to General Court

Reception and Spread Followed

No convention could have been more harmonious nor could better feeling have prevailed than that at the one on Monday evening last, when John N. Cole was nominated by the Republicans of the 8th district, including Andover, North Andover and Middleton, as representative to the General Court.

The convention was called to order in Pilgrim hall, Andover, at 8 o'clock, by William Halliday of North Andover, chairman of the district committee. He stated that Andover was entitled to nine delegates, North Andover to seven, and Middleton to one. Upon a motion by Joseph A. Smart of Andover, James C. Poor of North Andover was chosen as temporary chairman and upon a motion of John L. Smith, Joseph A. Smart was chosen as temporary secretary.

A committee on credentials was appointed consisting of John L. Smith, Andover, Walter H. Hayes, North Andover and Oscar Cram of Middleton. Harry D. Rockwell reported in behalf of the North Andover delegates, that one delegate was present and that one delegate was present without a credential, and asked for action.

It was voted that the North Andover delegation be allowed to fill and that the delegate without a credential should be allowed to participate.

The committee on credentials reported and it was found that there was a full representation present.

Harry D. Rockwell moved that the temporary organization be made permanent and the motion prevailed.

The nomination of a candidate for representative was next in order and the chairman asked for the pleasure of the convention.

Selectman Samuel H. Boutwell presented the name of John N. Cole of Andover as the nominee of the Republicans, stating that he was a native of Andover, and that he was a resident of the district through his connection with the Andover Townsman and Lawrence Telegram. He stated that Mr. Cole was a true Republican and will represent the towns with great ability as his connection with the mills during his early residence here and later through the newspapers have given him a wide understanding of the needs and requirements. After alluding to his ability as a speaker and writer he spoke of the harmonious Republican caucus at which Mr. Cole received the party support with no opposition, and of the fact that for two years or more he had been generally conceded to be the one who should next represent the towns from Andover. His mention of Mr. Cole's name and move that he be nominated by acclamation was received with applause.

The motion was put and Mr. Cole was nominated by acclamation as the party's candidate from the 8th district.

The chairman appointed a committee consisting of Mr. Smith, Mr. Hayes and Mr. Cram to escort the candidate to the hall. Mr. Cole's entrance was greeted with much applause.

In accepting the nomination he expressed his thanks to the delegates and through them to the people of the district for the honor conferred upon him and assured them of his determination to endeavor to advance the best interests of the district by every honorable means should he be the choice of the citizens on the 4th of November.

It was voted by the convention that the district committee be empowered to fill any vacancy caused by death or otherwise and also that the district committee shall consist of the chairman of the town committees. The meeting was then dissolved.

Following the convention a reception was held at which nearly 100 prominent Republicans of Andover, North Andover, and Middleton were present and at which Col. Butler Ames of Lowell, candidate for Congressman from the Fifth Essex district and Hon. Archie N. Frost of Lawrence, republican nominee for senator in the Fifth district, were the honored guests of the evening.

Mr. Cole announced that Col. Ames and Hon. Archie N. Frost were present and he wanted everyone to meet them. First, however, he hoped to have a few words from Col. Ames and Mr. Frost. He introduced the former who said that he had not come down from Lowell with the expectation of making a speech. However, he was much pleased to be able to meet the gentlemen present, and to be allowed to say a few words. He spoke of Mr. Cole's giving a lesson in courtesy the other day at the convention in Lowell, by proposing at the proper time resolutions in appreciation of the efficient and able services of Cong. William S. Knox of this place. He said they were sorry to have overlooked this matter for Congressman Knox's exceptional and faithful services were thoroughly appreciated. He said he was especially glad to be present as it gave him a better opportunity of becoming acquainted in regard to which he related an incident which occurred while he was after the nomination two years before. Once while out in the country he introduced himself to a good old farmer and asked his support. The farmer looked him over and then asked, "Well, how old be yer?" He wanted to become better acquainted so that folks wouldn't need to ask, "How old be yer?" Col. Ames concluded by saying that he hoped to have the chance of greeting everybody.

Senator Frost when presented said that he, like Col. Ames, had not come over expecting to make a speech but hoped to have the pleasure of shaking hands with all, some of whom he knew and some of whom he did not know. He said that he had never had the chance to thank the citizens of Andover and North Andover for their support and aid in his election to the senate. Senator Frost went on to tell of the trust and honor above all things which a man holding office under the government has, a trust which he should hold sacred. He spoke of his sincere gratitude at securing his nomination for a second time that afternoon, and thanked the citizens for their support. Then alluding to Col. Ames' nomination, he said the citizens owed it to the country to send someone to Washington who

FAREWELL RECEPTION

Final Gathering in Honor of Rev. Fr. O'Mahoney on Sunday Night.

In accordance with the wishes of the committee of the parishioners of St. Augustine's church, a final reception will be held at the church on Sunday evening, in honor of Rev. D. J. O'Mahoney, O. S. A.

Rev. Fr. Locke, assistant pastor of the church and president of the committee of arrangements, will preside. A purse will be presented to Fr. O'Mahoney in behalf of the parishioners and others by Dr. E. C. Conroy.

Miss Margaret Donovan will make an address in behalf of the ladies of the church. Other addresses will be given by J. J. Daly and Rev. Frederic Palmer of Christ church.

The reception is to be general so that Fr. O'Mahoney's hosts of friends in town may have an opportunity to bid him God-speed before he starts on his mission to the Philippines to take up the work laid down by the Spanish friars.

The doors will be open at 7:30 o'clock and the program will begin at 7:45 sharp. Music will be furnished by the choir.

Farewell Service.

At the morning and evening services at the South church Sunday special reference was made to the approaching departure of Edward C. Carter, son of Rev. Clark Carter, for India, where he will have charge of Y. M. C. A. work. At the morning service there was an appropriate address by Vice Principal A. E. Stearns of Phillips academy. Dr. Peabody of Harvard, who was expected to speak also, was unable to be present on account of illness. At the evening service remarks were made by Mr. Carter, G. E. Huggins, who is to succeed Mr. Carter as secretary of the Harvard Christian association, and Dr. Jones, the veteran missionary of the American board in India, who extended a warm welcome to the young recruit.

Abbot Notes.

The young ladies of Abbot academy showed their charitable spirit last Tuesday evening, by giving a millinery opening for the purpose of relieving the expected suffering of the poor, caused by the coal famine. They spent a short time in making paper hats of various shapes and colors, afterwards selling them at auction. The sum raised was eighteen dollars.

ESCAPED DEATH.

Two of Andover's Town Officials Almost Electrocuted by Live Wires.

During the operations on Elm street last Tuesday the workmen employed by Contractor L. N. Farnum removed the horse chestnut tree on John H. Flint's land. As one of the limbs fell it struck a telephone wire, snapping it in two and causing one part to fall upon the trolley and leaving the end dangling down on a horse hitched in a pair belonging to Edward Adams of North Andover.

At first the animal did not seem to realize that anything was wrong but the driver had no sooner whipped up the animals and gotten them safely out from under the dangerous wire than the horse felt the shock of the 500 volts he had received and pranced about, rearing and plunging in lively fashion for a few moments.

This wire was easily removed from the trolley and placed out of the way and was later cut so that no danger could come from it. Not long after this episode occurred another which came near to the serious, or even tragic.

Once again it was a falling limb which carried down a wire, causing it to come in contact with a light wire. No one knew at the time that such was the case, however, but later events showed it to be so. At first no one cared to handle the wire but Supt. John E. Smith thought he could handle it with safety. Borrowing a heavy buckskin glove from one of the concreters, a glove the palm of which was covered with tar, he reached out to pick up the wire.

One touch with tips of the fingers was enough to knock him down quicker than a flash. A current of 2280 volts was passing through him. Only a few seconds would have been sufficient to have finished up the work already begun but those few seconds were cut short enough owing to the presence of mind of one man, to mean the difference between life and a probable death.

No sooner did the superintendent of the work of felling the trees, there, Geo. L. Barker of North Andover, see what had happened, than quick as a flash he put his arms one on either side of Mr. Smith's arms and pulled him away to safety. Mr. Smith straightened up and Mr. Barker thought he was going to be all right but in a second the almost-victim of electrocution, collapsed. He was quickly revived and aside from burns on his fingers and palm of his left hand, suffered no serious effects.

A different method of relieving Mr. Smith from his dangerous neighbor, a touch on his wrists or head, had he grasped the wire firmly, or had he touched the ground as he fell, all would have been up with him.

The current is an alternating one, rather than direct like the trolley, so that when one grasps it, it is impossible to let go. It is safe sometimes to handle a trolley wire with no dangerous effects but it is not policy to do so promiscuously.

Mr. Barker's presence of mind deserves a great deal of commendation. He said that his arms felt as though they had been pounded all the afternoon. Mr. Smith thinks that his sensation resembled that of someone pouring hot fluid over him. He felt no distinct shock and was conscious until pulled away from the wire. It is his opinion that he will let live wires alone in the future and call for a lineman. Supt. Walter H. Coleman states that there is no insulation proof against the current from the electric light wires. On Sunday night he tried to handle a wire with a heavy pair of mittens, rubber gloves and insulated pliers, and got two heavy shocks. Had he been on the ground he probably could not have survived them.

Work on Elm Street.

The selectmen have ordered the Haverhill & Andover road to be macadamized the strip on Elm street, eighteen feet in all on one side, including the track, however, and eighteen inches outside the rails. By the franchise, eighteen feet of Elm street was to be macadamized from Summer street to the Square. This strip was to include the rails, and, according to the plans would have left only seven feet on either side to be fixed in shape. Now the street will have one side macadamized side with a paved gutter and it is extremely likely that the selectmen will decide to have the other side macadamized also before the job is finished. The part being put in condition is the easterly side and Loring N. Farnum is doing the work. Another question which the selectmen have to consider is the disposal of the two trees in front of John H. Flint's house occupied by John W. Bell and John V. Holt. As the sidewalk is now laid out these trees are right in the middle of the walk. The lawn in front of Mr. Flint's own residence is being changed so that there will be an unbroken slope from the sidewalk to the house and a similar arrangement will be carried out on the side toward High street. The fence has been removed on two sides of his property. The last elm of the doomed five fell yesterday morning. In getting down these trees, Mr. Barker, who had the work in charge, has been remarkably fortunate in getting good falls.

Cricket Club's Annual.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Andover Cricket club was held Tuesday evening at Abbott Village hall.

Following is a list of the officers elected:

President, George A. Christie.
Vice Presidents, Hugh Kydd, David Coutts.
Secretary, Walter Rhodes.
Treasurer, Hugh Kydd.
Executive committee, W. Fairlie, Hugh Kydd, D. L. Coutts, Joseph Soutar, Alex. Ritchie.

The club expressed its appreciation of the services of former Captain Bruce during the season.

It was voted that a smoke talk and a clam bake be held on Friday evening, Oct. 31, in Abbott Village hall.

The executive committee will have charge of the dance which will be held in the Town hall on the first available night. Both the dance and the clam bake will be held to raise money to pay off the club's indebtedness.

Another town official was nearly electrocuted on Thursday morning in a similar manner to that which so narrowly escaped proving too much for Superintendent Smith of the Board of Public Works. The effects were even more serious than those Mr. Smith suffered, however.

The victim this time was Tree Warden J. Harry Playdon who was engaged in trimming up the trees on Central street, and while he escaped with burns and bruises, his life was saved almost by a miracle.

Residents of the town know what the electric light service has been in town during the wet weather of the past week or two. Several nights have passed when the street service has hardly been on at all, while the store and house lights have been very erratic. In many places about Andover wires have come in contact with the trees causing the latter to be burned in the place where the wire touched while the whole tree was an immense battery, the dampness causing the electric current to flow freely. It has been the dampness and the contact of the wires with the trees that has caused the Andover Electric Light company so much trouble and the residents of the town to go about in the dark.

To remedy this difficulty Electrician Newton Jaquith, Jr., secured the consent of Tree Warden Playdon to cut out some of the branches, and together they were going around yesterday morning trimming up the trees.

They were working on a tree in front of the residence of Mrs. Rebecca Mills on Central street, at about 11 o'clock, when Mr. Playdon accidentally got hold of a live electric light wire. Fortunately Mr. Jaquith was working beside him and instantly knocked the wire out of Mr. Playdon's hand. As soon as he was released from the wire the shock doubled him up and before Mr. Jaquith could reach him, he fell to the ground through some branches which broke his fall, landing on his head and shoulders. The electric shock had rendered him unconscious and he remained in that condition for about twenty minutes, and was then removed to his home where Dr. Torrey attended him.

The current burned his hand and one foot quite severely and the fall bruised him badly but apparently no bones were broken. He complains most of his neck and an injury to his eye. His fall was probably from a height of twenty feet or more.

That his escape was little short of a miracle cannot be doubted. Had the conditions varied ever so slightly, nothing could have saved him. He was getting the full force of the 2280 volts and had Mr. Jaquith been a little farther away or less prompt to act, the delay would have been fatal.

Two such narrow escapes will be a glaring sign to be read by all "HANDS OFF."

Generous Gift to Home for Aged People.

The annual meeting of the Andover Home for Aged People, was held on Tuesday evening at the residence of J. W. Barnard.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

President—J. W. Barnard.
Vice-President—Mrs. Frank E. Gleason.

2nd Vice-President—Mrs. H. F. Wilson.

Treasurer—George A. Parker.

Secretary—Mrs. M. S. McCurdy.

Auditor—Joseph A. Smart.

Directors—J. Warren Berry, J. H. Campion, John N. Cole, George T. Eaton, Herbert H. Hill, John L. Smith, Mrs. J. W. Barnard, Miss Emily Carter, Mrs. Mary S. Jackson, Mrs. Catherine Middleton, Dr. E. M. E. Sanborn, Mrs. Joseph W. Smith.

The meeting lacked that element of tedious detail peculiar to most business meetings, from the fact that a bequest of one thousand dollars was announced from Mrs. Coburn. The hearts of all were cheered—not warmed this season—by this most generous gift from one whom we always claim as a resident of Andover, though she comes and goes with the birds.

The treasurer reported the interesting fact that including pledges and gifts, the Home is now twenty-two hundred dollars nearer its realization than a year ago.

WEST PARISH.

A meeting of the Woman's Mission club of the West church, was held this afternoon.

The Seamen's Friend society will be entertained by Mrs. Edward Abbott next Thursday evening.

Notice.

The annual meeting of the Andover Guild, for the election of officers and other business, will be held at the Guild House, Brook street, on Tuesday evening, October 14, at 7.45 o'clock.

Obituary.

EDITH DOVE McHENRY.

The very sudden and unexpected death of Mrs. W. Cary McHenry of Baltimore, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. W. Dove of Phillips street, was a terrible shock, not only to the immediate family but also to many other people in Andover who knew her.

Mrs. McHenry and her two children had been spending the summer with her parents. About two weeks ago she went to Baltimore on business expecting to return on Monday or Tuesday last. On her way back to Andover she went to Bennington, Vt., to spend Sunday with a friend. Saturday morning Mrs. McHenry complained of not feeling well but thought her condition due to a severe cold. A doctor was called in the afternoon but did not think there was any cause for anxiety. In the evening Mrs. McHenry's condition grew worse and she became unconscious. She continued to fall rapidly and died at about two-thirty Sunday morning.

Mrs. McHenry's sister, Mrs. T. W. Lee of Chestnut Hill, who had been sent for but who reached Bennington shortly after her sister's death, brought the body to Boston and then to Andover Sunday night.

Deceased was born in Andover 32 years ago, and lived here all of her life previous to her marriage. Besides her two children, she is survived by her parents, one sister, Marion, (Mrs. Lee), and two brothers, John and Percival.

Services were held Tuesday at 1.30 at the Seminary chapel on the hill, preceded by prayers at the house. Rev. Frederic Palmer and Rev. F. A. Wilson officiated. Organist John Bacheider presided at the organ and part of the Chrys church choir sang. Quantities of beautiful flowers were fragrant tokens of the love and esteem in which Mrs. McHenry was held by her scores of acquaintances and friends. Interment was in the family lot at the Chapel cemetery.

JOSEPH H. COLE

The death of Joseph H. Cole occurred at his late home on North Main street, Tuesday October 7, at the age of 66 years. He was an attendant of the South church, and was a very sincere Christian. Deceased was employed by the Tye Rubber Company. Besides a widow, he leaves several sons and daughters.

The funeral was held from his late home yesterday, Rev. F. R. Shipman, officiating. Burial was in Spring Grove cemetery.

Births.

In Andover, October 10, 1902, a son, Herbert Wells Hill, to Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Hill, 96 Elm street.

Marriage.

In Andover, Sept. 23, William Parker Shattuck and Isabelle Perkins Haskell, both of Andover, by Rev. F. A. Wilson.

Death.

In Andover, Oct. 8, James, infant son of James and Julia Ronan of Pearson street, aged 2 months and 14 days.

The Saturday afternoon Bible Class, under the auspices of the Evangelistic Association of New England, will resume the study of the Sunday School Lessons on Saturday, October 11th, at 3.15 o'clock, in Park St. Church, Boston, with the Rev. James M. Gray, D. D., as leader.

Had the Best Gardens.

The award of prizes for the best gardens from seeds distributed among the school children has recently been made. There were over 100 competitors and the award was made by a committee from the Andover Village Improvement society. The first prizes were $1 and the second, fifty cents.

Arthur Eastwood, 189 N. Main street.
Ethel Gardner, Ballardvale.
Emma Holden, 25 Phillips street.
John Symonds, 88 Central street.

John Faulkner, Haverhill, has entered the employment of William Ledwell.

The Andover Mothers' Club held a Tea at the Kindergarten rooms, Friday, Oct. 3rd, at 3.30. Tea and cake were served by Mrs. Welch, Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Poland.

On account of the rain, the missionary address expected from the Rev. Dr. F. Hazlewood, P. A. '00, at the Baptist church, last Sunday, has been postponed until Sunday evening next. In the morning the pastor will preach on "Christian Certainty."

The Girls' club of the Baptist church met last Friday evening with Miss Lillian Dodge on Chestnut street. Wm. Bentley of North Andover entertained the club with his phonograph. Sandwiches and coffee were served. Dr. J. A. Leitch will address the club at its next meeting.

The death of Mrs. Jonas Fleming of North Tewksbury removed one who was formerly intimately connected with Andover life. She was once a teacher in the old fashioned district school in the Scotland district and was a most estimable and talented woman. She was a sister of Brooks F. Holt of this place and was about 76 years of age. Besides being a skillful and successful teacher, she was in great demand in former days as a writer of verses for special occasions. The funeral was held Wednesday, Rev. J. Yeomans of the Congregational church at Tewksbury Centre officiating. Burial was in the family lot at Tewksbury.

To my surprise, it removed all pain and soreness and the injured parts were soon healed." For sale by E. M. & W. A. Allen, Andover.

PICKELS FOR MAYOR.

Ex-Alderman Robert F. Pickels will be a candidate for the Republican mayoralty nomination. In an open letter to the Republicans of the city he states his position as follows:

To the Republican voters of Lawrence:

In response to the urgent wishes of many friends I have consented to again be a candidate for the Republican Mayoralty nomination. In arriving at this conclusion the fact has been considered that I received the largest popular vote in the caucuses last year, showing that I was the choice of the people, but on account of the delegate system which then prevailed, the nomination went to another. Having served in the common council and board of aldermen, that experience naturally would be of much value if the people of Lawrence should decide to elect me mayor.

In entering the contest, I shall use every honorable means to win and have no doubt as to the result.

Very truly yours for success,

ROBERT F. PICKELS.

COAL FOR ITS OPERATIVES.

Treasurer William M. Wood of the American Woolen company has cabled abroad for 5000 tons of anthracite coal to be placed at the disposal of the employees of the company.

Two thousand tons will be for the help at the Washington mills in this city. Two thousand will be set apart for the Providence operatives, and the remainder will be for the operatives in other localities.

The coal will be sold to the employees at between $7 and $8 per ton.

THOSE OVERDRAFTS.

After listening to statements made by Superintendent Dick of the public property department and Superintendent of Streets Hudson in explanation of the overdrafts in their department, the common council voted at Monday night's meeting to lay on the table the order passed by the board of aldermen instructing these officials to stop all work, except that actually necessary, until further orders from the city council were received. A few members of the council took occasion to condemn the methods which make overdrafts possible, but a majority of the board seemed to be of the opinion that the department heads should not be held accountable for the situation under the circumstances.

Resolutions were adopted endorsing the attitude of the striking coal miners, and the council voted to request Mayor Leonard to call a mass meeting of citizens in city hall Wednesday evening for the purpose of devising means to help poor people with coal at night. Considerable routine business was transacted. Councilmen Doyle and Garvey were the only members absent.

The department heads, with the exception of Superintendent Collins of the water department, who had been requested to appear, were present when the order relative to the matter was reached, and President Koerner called upon Superintendent Dick to make his statement first.

In his remarks Superintendent Dick pointed out that he had been compelled to pay $3300 of indebtedness contracted by his predecessor, $245.15 for insurance which has to be paid every five years, $445 for new horses, $265 for a new planing machine, $275 for 100 new seats and school desks, $2500 for removing the High school annex, $1000 on a retaining wall at Engine S's house, and $4000 for building an annex to the Storror school, none of which items were taken into account when his appropriation of $18,000 was decided upon. He stated further that all the work necessitating this expenditure had been ordered by the city council.

He said that the total amount expended on special work not included in the estimate for ordinary repairs, was $14,973.22, leaving a balance of $3026.78 with which he was expected to do the work required in 30 school buildings, eight engine houses, city hall, police station, and poor farm buildings, besides paying his salary, the clerk's salary, the keeping of horses and the wages of the stable men. "Ten years ago," he said, "the appropriation was $13,000, and while since then thirteen new buildings have been erected, only $5000 additional has been appropriated to cover the cost of repairs. The appropriation is not sufficient to cover even the cost of repairs to say nothing of new work."

Councilman Fitzgerald said that the superintendent was told at the beginning of the year that he must not overdraw his appropriation and as far as he could see there was no valid excuse for overdrawing $15,000 in nine months without coming before the council and explaining the situation. "The fences of our city treasury ought to be built higher," he said. "The matter ought to be fixed by legislation. I think it is radically wrong for a department head to be allowed to expend money in excess of the appropriation without asking the council to provide the funds necessary to pay for such work as is an absolute necessity."

Councilman Cusack said: "If I think any wrong has been done I shall be one of the first to condemn it; but I want to see fair play. I notice that the superintendent of public property has had to pay $3300 of the former superintendent's bills, that he has had to pay a big insurance bill and that there are other obligations which have caused more expense than usual, most of which was unforeseen."

Councilman Halstead remarked that, as he understood that the mayor had received a statement from each of the department heads every month, he must have been aware of the overdrafts and that he was really more to blame than the department heads for allowing the overdrafts.

Councilman Evans presented some statistics in an endeavor to prove that Superintendent Dick had made a poorer showing than any superintendent for several years. He asked why he singled out Superintendent Dick as an object of attack and did not censure the superintendent of streets or the superintendent of the water department, and he replied that he did not think the street department appropriation was sufficient.

Councilman Dooley asked why he did not regard the public property department appropriation as insufficient also, and when Councilman Evans began to explain by giving a detailed story of a little business, he said he had with Superintendent Dick. President Koerner called him to order and he subsided.

Councilman Campbell said that he had advocated an appropriation of $25,000 from the first for the public property department. He regarded $18,000 as entirely inadequate and said he could not see how the superintendent could be blamed for doing work which the council had ordered him to do.

Superintendent Hudson was then called upon to make a statement in explanation of the street department overdraft. He said in part: "I consider it a pleasure to meet you here and talk over the affairs of the street department. There certainly would be less friction and less chance for outside criticism if the heads of departments could confer oftener with the city government. I do not understand that in my departments there have been any very heavy overdrafts as yet. If the assessments due on street watering and from other sources should be collected, they would go a long way towards balancing that account. The amount due for this year alone, to say nothing of back accounts, is about $15,000.

"We are certainly not keeping up our public works in proportion to the rapid growth of our city. As an evidence of this, in 1874, 28 years ago, the sidewalk appropriation was $10,000, paying $20,000, sewers $8000, and streets $40,000, a total of $78,000. This year the sidewalk appropriation was $7000, sewers $8000, paying $5000 and streets $55,000, a total of $75,000. Our population in 1874 was about 32,000, our valuation about $22,000,000 and the tax rate $17.60. Today the population is double, the valuation double, but the tax rate is $2 less. The laborers then worked 10 hours for $1.50, and now they get $2.00 for eight hours work."

"It seems to be a question of raising the tax rate if we wish to be a well appointed city."

"The time for heads of departments to confer with the city council should be on the first rather than the last quarter of the year. If it should then be shown that no more money could be raised the work should be gaged accordingly and the people told so frankly."

At this point on motion of Councilman Campbell the order under consideration was laid on the table.

The following resolutions introduced by Councilman Campbell were unanimously adopted by a rising vote:

"Whereas, the attitude of union strikers in the anthracite coal regions, through their leader, President Mitchell, to arbitrate the coal strike has been just and reasonable and corporations to bring the coal strike to an end has been independent and insulting and

"Whereas, the citizens of the city of Lawrence are facing the rigors of a New England winter with little or no coal with which to warm their homes, schools and churches, or run their mills or manufactories, be it

"Resolved by the city council of the city of Lawrence, Massachusetts, that we tender our sincere sympathy to the coal strikers in their battle of Labor and Unity against Capital and be it further

Buxton & May.

Andover, Mass.

Dear Sir: Ira Gould, a painter in Colebrook, N. H., bought of our agent there, Wesley Wetworth, 4 gallons of paint, thinned it down with two gallons of oil and gave his own house one coat.

Every painter in town declared he had painted two coats.

"That's all the far the story goes," as Uncle Remus says. We don't know whether it made a good job or not; but the painter thought it did. We should call it priming. Maybe the house didn't need painting. A priming coat is enough if put on often enough.

But if Ira Gould had set out to do a favor, he couldn't have done much better. One priming coat of Devos is enough to make painters say, "He's been painting two coats; and wants us to think he has done it with one, and that half oil! No thank you."

We don't know Mr. Gould but we know Mr. Wentworth. Guess the story is straight.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOS & CO.

HIGH COURT AT NEWBURYPORT.

The October civil term of the superior court came in Monday morning at Newburyport at 10 o'clock. Judge Charles U. Bell of Andover on the bench.

The jurors were called and sworn William L. Dodd of Beverly was excused owing to ill health and C. Herbert Poor of Haverhill because of important business.

The calendar was called and cases assigned for trial during this session such as were ready. Several were continued and others marked for trial in Salem.

Prayer was offered by Rev. George H. Miner of the Baptist church of Newburyport.

The jury was impaneled in the case of Witham vs. Younger et als, and the other jurors excused until tomorrow morning at 9.30.

The cases to be tried at Newburyport are those from this vicinity with the understanding that Newburyport cases will come in order first if ready for trial.

The court will be in session for three weeks at Newburyport. An erroneous idea prevails that the court at the end of that time will adjourn to Salem. This is a mistake, as this is a sitting that begins and ends in Newburyport.

The calendar is long enough to keep trials going for twice three weeks but many have been continued. They are mainly tort cases.

There were over 50 lawyers in attendance, including nearly all the prominent attorneys in the county.

The first case is from Gloucester and the counsel are C. D. Smith for the plaintiff and Col. W. A. Pew, Jr., for the defendant and was begun this morning.

This will occupy the larger part of this afternoon.

The printed calendar contains 35 pages with eight cases to a page. There are 35 suits against the Boston & Northern and Lynn & Boston Street Railway companies and a number against the Ipswich, Georgetown & Rowley and the Haverhill & Amesbury Street Railway companies. There are 14 suits against the Boston & Maine roads on the list.

THE MAYOR'S CALL.

An effort is to be made to supply coal to the citizens of Lawrence at moderate prices, Mayor Leonard, having issued the following call to local business men:

"The Business Men of Lawrence: In order that adequate provisions shall be made to supply fuel, at a moderate cost, to those residents of this city who are unable to pay the prevailing high prices of coal, a meeting of the business men of Lawrence and those citizens who are desirous of contributing for such a purpose will be held in the city hall, Monday, Oct. 13, at 10 o'clock a. m.

"JAMES F. LEONARD, Mayor. This call is intended to include mill agents, and professional men, as well as the merchants of the city."

SIXTH DISTRICT NOMINATIONS. Otto Mueller and Thomas A. Brooks were nominated for representatives from the sixth district at the Democratic convention Saturday night.
